250 Attend Banquet To Mark 175th Anniversary Of St. James Founding

The congregation of St. James Lutheran Church celebrated the 175th anniversary of the founding of their church at a banquet Thursday evening at the church attended by more than 250 persons. It was the largest banquet ever held there. The meal was prepared by the women of United Church of Christ and was served by women of Christ Lutheran Church. From 1789 until 1848 St. James and the Reformed Church (Trinity UCC) used the same building for worship services at the corner of E. High and S. Stratton Sts. In 1835 some members of the original St. James congregation organized Christ Lutheran Church to serve the college and seminary students and faculties.

Atty. Eugene Hartman was the toastmaster and the Rev. John S. Bishop, associate pastor of the church, gave the invocation.

Group singing was led by L. Theodore Gilbert, accompanied on the piano by Robert Baker, church organist.

2 FLUTE SOLOS

Mrs. Lena Hartzell Forcey, Wheaton, Md., played two flute solos: "Fantasie" by Faure and "The Butterfly" by Kohler. She was accompanied on the piano by her husband, Rev. Ross Forcey.

A mixed octet comprising members of the congregation sang: "Come Everyone That Thirsteth," from "Elijah," by Mendelssohn, and "O Thou In Whose Presence," a traditional 18th century hymn. The group included Mrs. Rebecca Schwenk, Mrs. Arlene Shealer, Mrs. Yvonne Fair, Miss Linda Sterner, John DeHaas, John Speck, L. Theodore Gilbert and Mark Green. Robert Baker was the accompanist.

BRING GREETINGS

Rev. Dr. Robert W. Koons, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, brought greetings from his congregation. His church was founded by former members of St. James.

Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox, pastor (See BANQUET Page 3)

The Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary was located in Gettysburg and not Hagerstown "because the late Rev. John Herbst, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church was able to arouse the intelligent members of his congregation and citizens of Gettysburg to provide the funds and a building to begin such a school." Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, a former president of the Seminary, told a capacity banquet audience at St. James Church Thursday evening. The occasion was the observance of the 175th anniversary of the founding of the church. More than 250 persons attended the dinner.

"The first event in the entire 138 years of the Seminary's history was the inauguration of Professor Schmucker, and it took place in St. James congregation which then (1826) was at the corner of E. High and S. Stratton Sts." Dr. Wentz added.

"The founders of the congregation," Dr. Wentz continued, "came from Germany and their services of worship were at first entirely in German. They came from the lands southwest of the Rhine."

WERE FARMERS

"They were farmers and came from the most beautiful and fertile farming country in Europe. They left Germany because nearly a hundred years of destructive warfare had made life there intolerable for them. They were very pious people, and religious oppression was also one of the reasons why they accepted William Penn's invitation to America. Beginning in 1710 they came in large numbers."

"These founding fathers were brave and venturesome as well as devout and diligent. Coming to the port of Philadelphia, they remained in eastern Pennsylvania until they could pay off the cost of their passage across the ocean. Then they joined the great American migration westward and southwestward that was soon to make the American wilderness blossom as a rose."

INTO THIS AREA

"Those who went southwestward crossed the Susquehanna at Wright's Ferry (Wrightsville) and extended their line of settlements through York and Hanover to Frederick and Winchester. This is a ribbon of limestone soil that grew large trees. The German farmers knew it could be turned into good farms. This stretch of territory extends across the southern end of Adams (See ADDRESS Page 3)

Hurricane Hilda Heads For Deserted Marshes Off Louisiana's Coast

By BEN THOMAS
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Hurricane Hilda shifted her course toward the north early today and aimed the fury of her 150 mile-an-hour winds at the deserted marshlands of the Louisiana coast.

With previous killer hurricanes as a grim reminder, thousands fled the low-lying sections of Louisiana for the safety of the interior.

Hilda — most severe hurricane this season — altered its course from northwest to north-northwest near daybreak and lashed at the offshore oil rigs.

TIDES RISING

Rising tides were forecast all along the Louisiana coast with Cameron — where Hurricane Audrey killed more than 500 in 1957 — reporting a 3.5-foot swell.

At 6 a.m., CS, the New Orleans Weather Bureau said Hilda's center was 260 miles south-southwest of New Orleans.

BATTLEFIELD DEER TRAFFIC PROBLEM HERE

The deer herds that roam the Gettysburg Battlefield have in recent years become a source of enjoyment to National Park visitors but are also a cause for concern, National Park Superintendent Kittridge A. Wing said today.

Those for whom the deer have become a cause for concern include the Park Service, the Pennsylvania State Police, the state Game Commission and local sportsmen's organizations.

Superintendent Wing said that of the 3,168 acres that comprise the National Park here, 1,400 are in woodland and 1,300 are being farmed or in pasture. "This constitutes an ideal environment for wildlife, especially deer," he said.

A DEER PROBLEM

"Park deer are a great source of enjoyment to visitors who come to the battlefield at dusk to watch the deer feed. This is especially true of local people who have demonstrated a great interest in observing park deer in early evenings. The preservation of wildlife in its natural state and the absence of hunting in National Parks are basic principles of the National Park Service, that is, to provide for just this sort of enjoyment for people today and for generations yet unborn."

"Nevertheless there is a deer problem here that must be corrected if it is not to become serious in years to come. This problem is concerned with deer accidents on roads adjacent to the park, especially accidents on the Emmittsburg Rd. At stake for the motorist is damage to his vehicle, possible injury or loss of life. The agonizing and sometimes prolonged death to deer that are victims of highway accidents is not only cruel but so

Plans for a county-wide Fire Prevention Week program October 11 at Littlestown, for distribution of 3,000 school book covers in the county's schools, and for fire drills and other activities, were outlined Thursday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Association of Fire Chiefs in Greenmount fire hall.

Union Orders Dockworkers Back To Work Tonight; Court Issues 10-Day Strike Delay

NEW YORK (AP) — The International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, ordered its 60,000 striking dockworkers to return to work at Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports at 7 p.m. today, New York time.

The move complied with a federal court restraining order Thursday night halting the strike for 10 days in the national interest.

Before the meeting of union officials to set in motion the machinery for obeying U.S. Dist. Judge Frederick vanPelt Bryan's order, ILA President Thomas W. Gleason said: "We all went out together and we'll all go back together."

EMERGENCY MOVE

The judge acted on a declaration of national emergency by President Johnson.

The order was signed after the customary 3 p.m. hour of "shaping up" the dock gangs for the following day's work. Union officials said this hiring practice was the reason for the delay in bringing the piers back to life.

Some pickets showed up at New York docks this morning, saying they had not received orders from their union shop stewards to pull down picket lines.

A little later the union notified all ports to withdraw pickets and stand by for return-to-work instructions.

There were indications that waterfront activity would not fully return to normal until Monday because shipping and stevedoring firms would have to pay premium rates for work done tonight or during the week-end.

The regular work day in New York started at 8 a.m.—just 12 hours after the judge signed the papers aimed at an 80-day cooling off period to allow time for further efforts to break the (Continued On Page 3)

The Adams County Commissioners this morning talked about a four-mile park on Conewago Creek extending from New Chester to near Twin Bridges with the hope that funds will make the plan a reality.

At the commissioners' session in the courthouse today, county officials decided to propose to the state Department of Forests and Waters that it establish a regional park in he county under Project 70 funds.

If the proposal is accepted by the state, there will be no cost to the county, and the state will own, maintain and operate the park.

ASKED FOR SURVEY

The possibility of seeking a share of Project 70 funds in the county by establishment of a Department of Forests and Waters park area has been discussed by the commissioners for the last month.

The commissioners had asked Henry Mattox of the county Soil Conservation Service and County Agent Thomas Piper to go over topographical maps of the county and determine where a body of water could be found that could be dammed up to establish a sufficiently large "lake" to provide recreation, water storage and industrial advantages, and at the same time disturb the fewest number of homes, buildings, farms and highways.

At the same time the commissioners, to obtain an idea of public reaction, asked the Adams County Farmers Association which had been opposed to Project 70 what its opinion was on a proposed Project 70 program in the county.

NO OBJECTIONS

Wednesday night the County Farmers Association voted it did "not object," provided it could be done without cost to the county, and no farmer would be forced off the farm unwillingly.

This morning Mattox and Piper placed topographical maps before the commissioners, outlined various sites they had examined over the county, and said, they recommended a park be developed along (Continued On Page 3)

NEED PROOF OF MENTAL HEALTH NEEDS

The need for Pennsylvania counties to be able to prove their need for available federal funds next year for community projects in mental health was stressed at a two-day weekend conference of the Pennsylvania Mental Health Association at Allenberry. Mrs. W. W. Wood, a member of the state organization's board of directors, represented the Adams County Mental Health Association there.

Mrs. Wood also is a member of the Citizens' Committee for the study of mental health needs in this county which is intended to gather data to support a later county application for a share of the federal funds that have been allocated for such work.

The state's public welfare secretary, Arline M. Adams, told the conference that Pennsylvania leads other states in the nation in conducting a five-year study of mental health needs. The study is nearing its completion, Mrs. Wood said, and will be the subject of a report to the governor and legislature.

FAVOR LOCAL CENTERS

Dr. H. Keith Fischer, director of the professional advisory committee, for the state Mental Health Association, told the conference the consensus of opinion in the comprehensive planning study shows a trend away from large treatment centers toward more local diagnosis and therapy. There is a strong movement, he said, for the promotion of psychiatric services in every general hospital in the state and for furthering public interest and action in the problems of childhood mental illness.

The county mental health association is planning a series of public meetings this month to report on the results of mental health studies already made here.

Howard Musselman, county association vice president, and Miss Elizabeth Rutledge, members of the board of directors of the county group, are members of the governor's task force in the mental health needs survey.

The next meeting of the county association will be held October 15 when Mrs. Wood will report on the Allenberry sessions.

NFO HOLDING ACTION ENDS ON THURSDAY

By KENNETH HOPPING

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The National Farmers Organization which had been striving for 43 days to halt the marketing of livestock in a drive for higher prices ended its holding action Thursday night.

But Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., the NFO president said that it was only a recess in the controversial farm group's effort to gain bargaining power on prices with meat processors.

The boycott, which started Aug. 20, was the longest in a series of such moves. Effective in 23 states on cattle, hogs and sheep, it was marked by violent incidents in the Midwest. Two NFO men were killed when a cattle truck backed over them at a loading station in Wisconsin.

FIGURES "RIDICULOUS"

Except for a flurry of short supplies during the early days of the boycott the major terminal livestock markets reported little effect on receipts or prices.

But Staley charged: "Reported receipts figures tabulated by processors and marketing interests during the holding action have been ridiculous."

"Each holding action has been much stronger than the last," he said. "Many more farmers have joined the NFO."

No one would say how much livestock NFO men now will be sending to market and what the impact on prices will be. The organization does not disclose its membership.

Staley cautioned members not to dump their supplies. At Chicago Thursday cattle and hog prices were about the same as before Aug. 20 and were around $6 a hundredweight under minimums the NFO sought.

STUDENTS DEFY SCHOOL HEADS

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—A mob of 3,500 students continued to defy University of California officials today in a wild demonstration that included the wrecking of a police car.

The demonstration, which started Thursday morning and continued today, was in protest of a university edict banning on-campus solicitation of funds for off-campus political projects.

Expulsion of eight students Tuesday for disregarding the university rule touched off the demonstration, which several times threatened to turn into a full-scale riot.

The crowd began forming shortly after police took into custody a non-student, Jack Weinberg, 24, and prepared to take him to police headquarters on charges of trespassing.

Police said Weinberg refused to stop soliciting funds despite several warnings.

During the demonstration, university officials said, some 25,000 other students remained in classes or away from the demonstration.

SMALL BOTTLE LURES SAILOR TO SMALL GIRL

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Pineapple Kid met Miss Dawn Cope for a blind date inspired by a note that floated from San Diego to Honolulu in an aspirin bottle.

The Pineapple Kid is the nickname for merchant seaman Robert Ventura, 24.

Miss Dawn Cope, however, turned out to be the 16-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cope.

She's also the sister of Kevin Cope who likes to throw bottles in the sea.

Kevin tossed one in last June and signed his sister's name to this simple message:

"Dear whoever you are, what is going on wherever you are?"

Some months ago, Ventura, fishing near Waikiki Beach, found the bottle. He wrote Dawn asking for a date when his ship was coming home.

The Copes agreed to the plan and Dawn was at the dock Thursday when Ventura's ship arrived. So were her mother and Kevin.

"Here's your date," said Mrs. Cope.

Ventura smiled, groped for words, then admitted that Miss Dawn Cope is "quite a girl."

Starts Damage Suit For $50,000

A $50,000 damage suit has been filed in the Frederick County Circuit Court by Milton A. Sewell, Emmitsburg, against an Emmitsburg youth and his parents.

Sewell claims that Marvin Henley Cregger, Emmitsburg R. 2, was acting as the agent of his parents, Luther and Ada V. Cregger, when he drove a car owned by the elder Cregger into the rear of a tractor operated by Sewell September 24, 1963.

Sewell was operating a 1941 Farmall tractor on the Old Frederick Rd., two miles south of Emmitsburg, when the Cregger car, also coming south, struck the tractor in the rear, propelling him from the tractor onto the ground, the suit says.

John C. Evelius, Baltimore attorney, is asking $50,000 in damages from the Cregger family for the injuries Sewell sustained.

BATTLEFIELD

"Local sportsmen are justifiably concerned and disturbed at the great number of deer killed each year on roads near the battlefield, deer that would otherwise be harvested by these same sportsmen during hunting season.

NONE KILLED ON 'FIELD

"In cooperation with the State Police, the Game Commission and local sportsmen organizations, we hope to work out a way to solve this problem and to announce shortly definite steps to be taken."

Homer H. Thrush, game protector for Adams County, said that of the 204 deer killed during 1963 on county roads, over 60 per cent were killed on roads adjacent to the battlefield. "Damage of vehicles runs in the thousands of dollars. Fortunately there have been no serious injuries to motorists, but this, I am sure, will not always be the case."

Chief Park Ranger John Rogers said that in his estimation the park's deer population has in recent years remained comparatively stable, although there is a large seasonal variation in the number of deer that reside in the park. "In the eight years that I have been at Gettysburg there have been no reported deer-auto collisions on park roads where the speed limit is 25 mph."

To Ask Project

the Conewago, starting near New Chester.

The suggested plan calls for a dam to be placed across the Conewago near Sharrah's Mill. A dam about 2,000 feet long, and 50 feet high at its greatest depth, would be needed. The body of water that would be backed up would cover 700 acres. It would back up the Conewago to about a half mile from Twin Bridges. It would back up in Beaver Dam creek about halfway to Hunters-town.

But the proposed increase in the water would not affect as many farms and buildings as other possible sites. The road affected would be one on which the Norman Zepp farm is located near a new bridge that was installed by the commissioners a few months ago.

After checking other sites, the commissioners agreed that the New Chester area proposal was the best that could be obtained in the county and directed that application be made to the state department asking it to consider the area as a potential state park.

MEET AGAIN OCT. 16

A committee was being organized, with Attorney Eugene R. Hartman as chairman, to complete the application, listing the advantages that would accrue for conservation purposes, for recreational purposes, for historical purposes, to provide a needed reservoir of water for the county and possible industrial purposes, and to obtain details concerning possible cost for the land.

A meeting of that committee is to be held October 16 with the commissioners to complete the application at that time if possible.

noted that each unit obtaining five new members during the period will be awarded a wall plaque.

AWARDS FOR SCOUTMASTERS

District Scout Executive Stanley C. Rogers said, that for the first time in the history of the district Scoutmasters will also receive recognition for increased membership. A patch will be given those Scoutmasters whose units reach the goals set for the campaign.

Dr. Richard Grennholt, training chairman, announced willingness of his committee "to provide training for any leaders or committee members at any time."

It was announced that the Indian Rock District will hold a Scoutarama October 9 and 10, and that a number of counties are planning to attend those sessions.

Small Children Cause Many Fires

Never leave small children alone at home, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Too many fires each year in which lives are lost are caused by children playing with matches, the board added.

Even if you are going to be away for only a few minutes, get a responsible person to look after children. If you are going to be away a considerable time, get a baby sitter.

And keep matches out of reach of children.

They should be told that if fire occurs, they should get out of the house immediately, and ask a neighbor, if one is nearby, to call the fire department.

It should be impressed upon them, particularly, that they never should re-enter a burning house or apartment.

They should be told that their lives are far more valuable than any possessions.

LONDON (AP) — Anthony Chenevix-Trench, headmaster of Eton School, the incubator of British prime ministers, says adults should stop heckling boys who wear their so long they look like girls.

"Not all long-haired men are effeminate," Chenevix-Trench told a conference of teachers Thursday. "Teachers should not object to changes in fashion just because they dislike them."

of Trinity UCC, brought greetings dwelling on the historic relations between the two churches whose congregations worshipped in the same church for 60 years at the corner of E. High and S. Stratton Sts.

During the dinner a huge three-tiered cake, suitably inscribed on its sides "175th Anniversary, St. James Lutheran Church" was presented by Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser, pastor of the church. He commented on the significant meaning of the occasion. He was assisted in cutting the cake by Mrs. J. B. Wineman, 82, one of the oldest members of the church with the longest continuous membership.

HARVEST SETTING

The committee in charge of arrangements chose a color scheme of yellow and brown in table decorations. Yellow and brown candles and huge bowls of fresh fruit and products of the fall harvest graced the tables.

Mrs. H. W. Baker and Mrs. Lloyd Hartman were in charge.

The general anniversary committee was in charge of arrangements.

The benediction was given by Rev. Dr. Reaser.

The menu included: Tomato juice, roast turkey, dressing and gravy, mashed potatoes, peas and carrots, dried corn, Dutch lettuce salad, fruit cup, cake and coffee.

SUNDAY SERVICES

The Anniversary Week observance will conclude with services Sunday morning when Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putman, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, will preach at 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. on the subject, "The Church in the Space Age."

At the early services the Junior Choir will sing "O, How Amiable Are Thy Dwellings" by Barnby; the Senior Choir will sing two anthems at the later service, "Treasure in Heaven" by Joseph Clokey and "The King's Highway" by David McK. Williams.

Two additional special events will be held this year. On Sunday evening, October 18, the choir will sponsor a reunion of all former choir members who will unite with the congregation in a hymn sing. On Thursday, October 22, sons and daughters of the congregation who have gone into full-time Christian service will be honored at a dinner which will be followed by a lecture, "The Madonna in Christian Art," by the Rev. Robert E. Horne, of Norristown.

County. Here the founding fathers of St. James, more than 175 years ago, cleared their lands of trees, built their barns and their simple log houses. Here they raised their large families and brought up their children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. These devout sons of toil taught their children that to work with their hands was more honorable than anything else they could do.

"Here, too, they conducted their services of worship in their homes until they could secure ministers to visit them, give them the sacraments of baptism and the Lord's Supper, marry their young people, and hold memorial services for their dead."

"Such were the founding fathers of St. James. Truly, 'Others have labored, and you have entered into their labor.'" three-month deadline in negotiations on a new contract.

Union leaders, however, did not immediately issue back-to-work orders to the men, who struck at midnight Wednesday.

MEET TODAY

A spokesman for Gleason said he would call a meeting of union officials this morning to make preparations to get the men back on the job in the Port of New York.

In some other ports, Monday was considered the most likely time for resumption of work. In still other ports, union officials said work might resume today or tonight.

Sign-carrying pickets began disappearing from the waterfront as word of the court order got around.

10-DAY ORDER

Judge Bryan's order restraining the strike is good for 10 days. Bryan scheduled a hearing for next Thursday on the government's request for a preliminary injunction ordering an 80-day cooling-off period under the Taft-Hartley Act. The 80 days presumably would include the time starting at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

If no agreement is reached by the end of 80 days, the longshoremen will be legally free to resume the strike.

Judge Bryan said the order was necessary to remove "a peril to the national health and safety."

A negotiations deadlock over threatened loss of jobs through automation in the loading and unloading of cargo was a major factor leading to the strike. The employers seek to reduce the 20-man work gangs by at least three. They contend modern cargo handling methods justify the cut.

Expect Overflow Crowd To Watch Bullets Battle Delaware Here Saturday

Boats are expected to be at a premium at Memorial Field, Gettysburg College, Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when the undefeated Bullets gridders take on Delaware in a crucial Middle Atlantic Conference, university division game.

Gene Haas' Bullets have projected themselves into the title race as the result of early decisive wins over Hofstra and Bucknell. Delaware, defending division title and named last year as the nation's top small college team, whipped Hofstra in its lone start this season. Both Haas and Delaware Coach Dave Nelson regard Saturday's game as one of the major hurdles to cross in 1964.

Delaware recorded a spectacular 8-0 record a year ago and one of the victims was Gettysburg 64-18 count. At the same time the Bullets posted their first winning season in five years with a 5-4 slate.

Delaware will invade Gettysburg with 14 lettermen and fresh from a 36-7 win over Hofstra. However, the Bullets will be facing a Blue Hen team which lost eight first-unit players and three second-unit men from '63. Ron Bianco, captain and one of two returning starters from last season's line, will probably see limited action due to an opening game injury.

Commenting on the Blue Hens' strength and weaknesses Haas said, "They lost eight starters from last year and naturally they aren't going to be as strong, although they might become stronger as the season progresses. Five of those losses were from the line. One of our strong points is that we can put two strong lines on the field without a drop in efficiency. This was certainly proven in our first two games."

GOOD GROUND GAME
The thing we are going to have to stop is their ground game. They usually hit first on the ground and after running the ball all over the place, they mix in a couple of passes. Even last year, without a primary passing game, they still hurt us with the bomb after we held them for a whole quarter.

"VanGroski is supposed to be a much better passer than Zolak. They've indicated that they might throw more this year and this was substantiated when they tossed 22 times against Hofstra which is way above their average."

Gettysburg will be in excellent physical condition and in mid-week drills looked sharper than they have in a long time. The Bullets coach still maintains that his squad will be in the game all the way this year and that "Delaware will know they've been in a ball game."

Tom VanGroski, a 6'1", 185-pound junior from Bloomfield, N. J., will direct the Blue Hen offense from his quarterback slot. VanGroski landed 11 of 19 throws for 122 yards and two TDs against Hofstra. Halfback Bill Hopkins, a senior from Dover, N. Y., was the leading ground gainer in the same game with 108 yards for 10 carries. Running out the backfield will be Paul Mueller, 6', 187, State College, and junior fullback Mike McCrann, 6'1", 203, Amityville, N. Y.

The starting line will include: Ends, Wes Frith, 6'2", 190, Flourtown, and Mike Purzycki, 6'1", 185, Newark, N. J.; tackles, Jay Gibbons, 6', 220, State College, and Bill Spangler, 6', 205, Baltimore; guards, Manny Insua, 6'11", 195, Belleville, N. J., and Herb Slattery, 6'2", 235, Wilmington, and center, Denny Toddings, 6', 225, Brick Town, N. J.

Frith set a new Delaware single game record last week when he pulled down eight passes and rolled up 109 yards and scored two touchdowns. Tackle Bill Spangler and fullback Mike McCrann are the only other returning starters from last season.

BULLET STARTERS
Haas will remain with his same starting unit which opened the two previous games. Jim Ward will handle the quarterback assignment with Dale Boyd and Ken Snyder handling the flanker posts. Tony Presogna and Rod Albright will man the two running back slots in the pro-type offense.

The front wall will consist of: Ends, Dick Masin and Joe Egresitz; tackle, Irv Strohecker; guards, Ron Brentzel and Brian Tierney; and center, Bob Furney. Tierney, and Ken Snow, have been putting in equal time at left guard.

BERMUDIAN WINS
The Littlestown Seventh and Eighth Grade football team lost a 7-6 decision to Bermudian Springs Thursday afternoon at Littlestown.

DEER SEASON FOR ARCHERS ON SATURDAY

Thousands of modern-day "Robin Hoods" are expected to Saturday for the opening of the 1964 Pennsylvania's forests 194 archery-deer season.

The forecast calls for ideal weather with enough dampness from this week's rainfall to make for perfect tracking. The bow-hunting season gets underway at a.m., EST, and continues through 5:30 p.m., EST, Oct. 30.

WATERFOWL TOO
In spite of the recent rains, the State Game Commission has appealed for extreme caution because of the drought which has left forests and woodlands tinder dry.

Last year, the archery season was interrupted by a statewide ban on hunting because of dry weather. The season was resumed in December.

However, game officials feel this year's hunting will go without interruption. Also swinging into action Saturday will be Keystone State waterfowl hunters as brant and Canadian geese become legal targets in all but Crawford County.

INCREASINGLY POPULAR
The goose season comes in with duck season Oct. 10 in Crawford County and the State Game Commission's Pymatuning goose management area.

Shooting hours for bow-hunters will be between 6 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., EST.

Any whitetailed deer, regardless of sex or size, is legal prey, but the limit is one for each hunter. Bow-hunting has become an increasingly popular sport since the first statewide season in 1951. Then there were 5,542 licensed bow-hunters reporting a kill of 32 deer. Last year a total of 64,327 licensed hunters reported a harvest of 1,388 deer.

Pennsylvania is one of 47 states which has special bow-hunting seasons and has more licensed hunters than any other two states combined.

Roberts Will Play Against GHS Tonight

With only the Gettysburg-Camp Hill football game here tonight on the area schedule, a big crowd is expected to watch the Warriors and Lions in their important Blue Mountain League clash.

Announcement has been made that Laurie Roberts, ace back of Camp Hill, who has been sidelined for 10 days due to an injury, will play tonight which means the Warriors will find their opponents much tougher. Both teams are 1-1 in the BML.

Delone (2-1) meets Lancaster Catholic (1-2) at Lancaster in the only other game scheduled tonight.

Saturday's games include: St. Francis Prep (2-0) at Bermudian Springs, 2 p.m.; Biglerville (2-1) at Boiling Springs (3-0), at 8 p.m. in probably the top BML game of the week, and Littlestown (0-3) at Susquehanna at 8 p.m. in a York County League game.

Gettysburg Junior High took over the top position in the South Penn Junior High League by trouncing Waynesboro West 36-8 at Waynesboro Thursday afternoon to rits second straight football victory.

It took just two plays for Pat Kelly's Braves to score their first touchdown after receiving the opening kickoff. Eddie Hughes ran 40 yards on a sweep to the Cyclones' 30 and on the next play Eric Maitland raced over for a score. The try for the point failed.

Later in the same period Jim Weikert caught a pass from "Bo" Davies and reached the one-yard line from where "Butch" Alberts plunged over. Hughes ran for the point.

Waynesboro was in command in the second period and tallied all of its points. Following a sustained march downfield the Cyclones scored on a quarterback sneak by Brechbiel. A clipping penalty in the end zone against the Braves gave Waynesboro a safety late in the period to make the score 13-8 at half time.

CLINCH VICTORY

The Warriors iced the game in the third period. Alberts cracked over from the three after Hughes had put the ball in scoring position via a long run. Hughes also ran for the point. A short time later Hughes streaked 40 yards around end for a score and Davies passed to Jim Weikert for the point.

Early in the final period Gettysburg gained a safety when a bad pass from center by the Cyclones was downed in the end zone. The final score came on a 10-yard pass from Davies to "Skip" Waybrant. Davies then tossed to Alberts for the extra point.

Playing fine defensive games for the Braves were Dan Topper, Mike Varian, Junie Zentz and Jerry Hartzell. On the offense John Kuhn, Randy Phiel and Joe Eyer were outstanding performers on the line.

Next Thursday afternoon the Braves will meet Carlisle Junior High here.

Reds' Reserve Catcher Sparks Team To 5-4 Win Over Bucs; Decision Near

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Gene Mauch has run out of moves, except downward perhaps, but Johnny Keane and Dick Sisler still have time to maneuver their teams into the National League pennant.

Cincinnati's Sisler made a key move Thursday night, deciding to use reserve catcher Jim Coker instead of regular John Edwards, who hurt his hand the night before.

Coker responded with a single, a double and his first home run of the season, sparking the Reds to a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh that moved Cincinnati to within one-half game of Keane's first-place St. Louis Cardinals, who were idle.

1ST COKER HOMER

Coker's second-inning single drove in the Reds' first run after 34 scoreless innings. He doubled and scored in the fourth, then snapped a 3-3 deadlock with his homer off Steve Blass in the sixth. That put Cincinnati ahead to stay.

The 28-year-old catcher has been the property of six major league teams since he reached the majors in 1958. The Reds purchased him from Denver of the Pacific Coast League Aug. 23. Before Thursday night, Coker had played in nine games and batted .280 with two runs batted in.

There was no immediate word on whether Coker or Edwards would be in the line-up tonight when the Reds play their next-to-the-last game of the season against Mauch's once-potent Philadelphia Phillies.

CARDS FACE METS

The Phillies still are working on a 10-game losing streak and conceivably could tumble into fourth place behind San Francisco.

While the Reds are battling Philadelphia, the Cardinals, winners of eight straight, will play the lowly New York Mets. If the Reds win their two re-

DELONE FROSH NIP CENTRAL

The Delone Catholic High School Freshman football team evened its record at 1-1 by nipping Chambersburg Central 14-13 Thursday evening at McSherrystown.

Delone took a 7-0 lead in the first period when Dick Timmins scored from the five-yard line and then ran for the point.

Central knotted the score in the second stanza on a 60-yard run by Gary Taylor and a run for the point by Mike Rideout. Timmins tallied his second touchdown in the third quarter on a 45-yard gallop. Steve Keefe added what was to prove the eventual winning point when he smacked over on a quarterback sneak for the extra point.

Mike Rideout raced 55 yards for Central in the fourth period for Central in the fourth period but the Squires stopped Taylor when he attempted to run for the point to preserve the victory.

Next Thursday Delone will entertain Edison Junior High School of Harrisburg. Score by periods:
Delone 7 0 7 0-14
Central 0 7 0 6-13
Touchdowns: Timmins 2, Taylor, Rideout; PAT: Timmins run, Keefe plunge, Rideout run.

KELSO CAN BE RICHEST HORSE

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kelso can become the richest horse in thoroughbred racing history Saturday. All the 7-year-old gelding needs to do is to beat fleet Gun Bow, hard striking Quadrangle and sometimes dangerous Colorado King in the $100,000-added Woodward at Aqueduct.

The four-time Horse of the Year has won $1,711,132. With four starters, the 1 1/4-mile race will gross $107,200 with $69,680 going to the winner. Round Table heads the list of money winners with $1,749,869.

Kelso hasn't been exactly a ball of fire this year but in the rich Aqueduct Stakes on Labor Day he showed something of his old form as he staged a mighty stretch drive and beat Gun Bow by less than one length.

Bullets High In Grid Statistics

Ken Snyder, Gettysburg College halfback, ranks high in individual football statistics for small college teams, according to figures just released by the NCAA.

Snyder is seventh in scoring with 24 points and eighth in passing with 11 receptions for 178 yards. Jim Ward, quarterback, is 19th in passing on 20 completions in 38 tries. The Bullets rank eighth as a team in passing, averaging 214.5 yards per game.

maining games, the Cardinals would have to win all three of theirs to finish first.

St. Louis can eliminate the Phillies and the Giants from the race by beating the Mets to night.

GIANTS, BRAVES WIN

In other NL games Thursday, San Francisco trimmed Houston 3-1. Milwaukee whipped New York 7-3 and Chicago nipped Los Angeles 4-3.

In the American League, The Reds scored the decisive run in the seventh inning on a triple by Vada Pinson that Jerry Lynch couldn't handle in left field and Frank Robinson's double. The Pirates rallied for one in the eighth as Dick Schofield doubled and Bill Virdon singled.

Sammy Ellis relieved Joe Nuxhall, though, and snuffed out the Pirates' threat. Nuxhall, 9-8, had taken over from starter Bob Purkey after Roberto Clemente singled across two runs in the fifth.

Juan Marichal won his 21st game even though he gave up 10 hits to the Colts. Tom Haller backed Marichal, who had lost eight times, with a homer and a run-scoring single in a four-run third inning. Willie Mays singled in two runs in the outburst.

FAVOR COLTS OVER RAMS IN BIG PRO TILT

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
Johnny Unitas and Baltimore's new-found running punch will provide the acid test for that bruising defense unit of the Los Angeles Rams in one of the most interesting games on the weekend pro football program.

The Colts, who have not lost to the Rams in Baltimore since 1955, are coming off a 52-0 rout of the Chicago Bears that aroused title hopes in Baltimore. They lead the league in scoring and have the No. 1 passer in Unitas, who has been intercepted only once and has thrown seven touchdowns.

Harland Svae's front four defense were likened to "Dempsey, Firpo, Ruth and Gehrig" by Minnesota's (Dutch) Van Brocklin last week after losing to the Rams 22-13. He didn't say which was among Lamar Lundy, Merlin Olsen, Deacon Jones and Rosey Grier.

The batting average picked up last week with nine out of 11, making the NFL season total 11-82 and the American Football League total 7-4 for a combined 18-12-2.

With an eye for some upsets, let's try again, all Sunday games unless otherwise noted:
NFL
Baltimore 28, Los Angeles 24—Colts had better keep their guard up. They could use some of those 52 points from last week. Doubtful status of Dick Bass for Rams and Unitas' pick-point accuracy in early games gives edge to Colts.

Green Bay 24, Minnesota 13—With Tommy Mason a very doubtful starter, Vikings are still hurting for running backs and Packer defense is rough.

Cleveland 31, Dallas 14—Jim Brown in high gear and Frank Ryan clicking with passes against Cowboys who still are hobbled by Don Meredith's bad ankle.

Philadelphia 24, Pittsburgh 21—Eagles won exhibition game from Steelers 24-13 and seem to have a rejuvenated Ollie Matson.

St. Louis 27, Washington 10—Cardinals clicking on Charley Johnson's passes and Jim Bakken's field goals.

San Francisco 17, Chicago 14—An upset for the battered Bears, still groggy after that bombing in Baltimore. Not even George Halas' whip-lashing can cure the aches and pains of Larry Morris, Mike Pyle, Joe Fortunato and Bill George.

New York 14, Detroit 13—A battle of two proud defensive units. Favored Lions, smarting under publicized fines and defeat by Packers, figure to be tough to handle.

AFL
Buffalo 24, Oakland 10, Saturday night—The Bills are rolling high despite eight interceptions against Jack Kemp.

New York 24, San Diego 21, Saturday night—Handle this one gingerly. On the hunch that Lance Alworth, Paul Lowe and others will be below par, give the Jets the edge.

Boston 20, Denver 6—Mike Holovak's Patriots ruin everybody's offense with their blitzing tactics while Gino Cappelletti catches passes and kicks field goals.
Kansas City 28, Houston 24—Return of Abner Haynes to running back position with Chris Burford healthy again gives the Chiefs a solid one-two punch against shaky Houston pass defense.

3 BIG COLLEGE GRID CONTESTS THIS EVENING

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Three of the top college football games scheduled this weekend are clouded by the questionable status of key quarterbacks — Rolfe Stichweh of Army, Roger Staubach of Navy and Jimmy Sidle of Auburn.

Staubach, the 1963 Heisman Trophy winner, and Stichweh both are reported ailing from ankle injuries, but last-minute indications are that both will play.

Sidle, ace of Auburn's unbeaten and seventh-ranked team, has an injured shoulder to take into an important Southeastern Conference match with Kentucky, author of the biggest upset of the young season.

NAVY AT MICHIGAN

The action gets under way tonight with three major games on schedule: Cincinnati at Detroit, New Mexico at Brigham Young and Furman at George Washington.

Possibly the top match on Saturday's program has sixth-ranked Navy visiting eighth-ranked Michigan. The Wolverines, one of the top choices in the Big Ten, have a powerful ground game to throw at the Middles, who build their attack around the multi-talented Mr. Staubach.

Army, unbeaten in two games, visits Austin, Tex., for both the Cadets' first-ever night game and their first encounter with Texas, the defending national champs, currently top-ranked and unscored in two starts.

MIDWEST IS BUSY

The mighty Longhorns, who play possession ball and just grind it out, are two-touchdown favorites over Paul Dietzel's three-platoon team. Stichweh, big gun in the Army attack, was injured in a victory over Boston College last week.

Alabama, ranked fourth in the nation, and an easy winner in two starts, is a top-heavy favorite against Vanderbilt at Birmingham, Ala., Saturday night.

The Midwest has a corner on much of the major action. In addition to Navy at Michigan, there's Southern California at Michigan State, Illinois at Northwestern, Indiana at Ohio State, Purdue at Notre Dame and Washington at Iowa, the latter one of four games scheduled for regional television coverage.

SYRACUSE ON TV

The other TV games are Syracuse at Holy Cross, the top game in the East, Arkansas at Texas Christian in a Southwest Conference battle, and Colorado State U. at Air Force.

Southern Cal, the No. 2 team in the nation, is a one-touchdown favorite over a Michigan State team that will be trying to rebound from an upset, third-ranked Illinois could have its hands full in Northwestern passing ace Tom Myers, a game that could have a major bearing on the Big Ten outcome; Ohio State, ranked fifth in the nation and again sporting a brutal ground game, is solidly favored over Indiana.

MCGOWAN AND BALDING LEAD

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — The mercury soared and the wind came up, but Jack McGowan and Al Balding played it cool to breeze into the second round of the $35,000 Fresno Open Golf Tournament today with a two-stroke edge on their nearest opponent.

And defending champion Mason Rudolph, with a bogey-ridden first round 77, was a full 10 strokes back. The other tournament favorites were little better off.

McGowan, a wiry little tiger from Toledo, Ohio, made his score by reeling off five consecutive birdies on the front side, then filled the rest of his card with steady pars.

Balding toured the slightly more difficult back side in four under 32 and had only one bogey on his card.

That put them out in front of big Bob McCallister, who tore up the front nine with a five-under 31, by two strokes.

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — Alice Gray, West Chester, Pa., won the two-day 36-hole Dorothy Campbell Howe Cup tournament with 78-81-159 Thursday at the Merion Golf Club.

Title Ball Series Opens On Sunday

New Oxford and Tayntown will meet Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at New Oxford in the first of the three-game series to determine the playoff championship of the South Penn Baseball League.

New Oxford eliminated Littlestown, regular season champ, last Sunday.

The second game of the series will be played October 11 at Tayntown.

Two Defeats By Detroit Delay Pennant For Yanks; Birds Shut Out Senators

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

That little old champagne taster, Yogi Berra, still is manipulating numbers today after the New York Yankees' pennant express ran afoul of the Detroit Tigers.

Berra, who has become accustomed to the taste of that bubbly stuff almost every fall in his 17 years as a Yankee, was all ready for his annual sip after New York swept two from Detroit Wednesday, reducing their magic number to two.

But the Tigers turned right around and knocked off the Bombers 4-2 and 5-2 Thursday delaying the clinching of New York's 29th pennant at least another day. If the Yankees whip Cleveland and Kansas City takes Chicago, Yogi can swoop it up again. But Berra isn't depending on the A's.

ORIOLES IN SHUTOUT
Two Yankee victories in the three-game set with the Indians will end all the speculation and that's what Yogi is shooting for. The runners-up aren't dropping by the wayside themselves as evidenced by Baltimore's 2-0 blanking of Washington Thursday which kept the Orioles' chance to tie alive. So, figures Berra, the best way to wrap it up is for the Yankees to win two.

Of course if the Athletics care to cooperate by knocking off Chicago or Detroit happens to top Baltimore tonight, Yogi will gladly accept the help.

The Tigers weren't much help Thursday, coming from behind in the ninth to pull out the opener against rookie Mel Stottlemyre and then getting a six-hitter from rookie Dennis McLain to win the nightcap.

satisfying truth concerning man and his struggles with life. He, in no way tries to talk away the trials and evils of the world, but he does give to us a message of strength that will help us to overcome the world. In the Revised Standard Version of the Bible, his words are written, "... this is the victory that overcomes the world, our faith." The new English Translation tells us, "the victory that defeats the world is our faith." Regardless of the translation we use, I believe it becomes clear to us that in the mind of John, there is a struggle going on between the world and the Christian faith. There is a struggle that exists between this world we know and the spiritual realm. There is a book about the Christian Church entitled, "In But Not Of The World." Christians who live in the world are called upon to, in some way, transcend the world. "OWN FAITH" "The victory that defeats the world is our faith." These words assume there is a foe. They assume there is something against us. Elsewhere in John's letter we read, "for all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh and the lust of the eyes and the pride of life, is not of the Father but is of the world." This is what John understands and means by the world. This is the foe, the enemy of God and the enemy of Christians. It has been said, "Wherever he stands, at the beginning or the end of things, a man has to sacrifice his gods to his passions or his passions to his gods." There is a foe. Secondly, these words assume there is a fight. Where there is a foe to the ways of God, there must be a fight for the sake of Jesus Christ. How could anyone professing the Name of Christ, know of wrong without putting up a fight to make it right? St. Paul reminds us of "the gospel armor." The hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers" calls to our attention Christian battle. We must stand up and fight, fight against what is evil and for what is Christlike. THERE'S A VICTORY Finally, there is a victory. A victory, not assumed, but a victory that is assured. "The victory that defeats the world is our faith. Who is it that overcomes the world but he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?" Our faith, if it be real and living faith, lifts us above, guards us against, and shields us from the evils of the world in which we live. Our faith brings out the very best in us and helps us to conquer the foe.

And our faith overcomes the world in that Jesus Christ has already conquered sin and death. He has already won the victory over this world in bringing to light and assuring those who have faith in Him of life in the eternal Kingdom of God. "So then the Lord Jesus, after he had spoken to them, was taken up into heaven and sat down at the right hand of God." Our faith in that truth is the victory that defeats the world. "Every man must make a choice between that which is of the world and that which is of God." There is a foe; there is a fight; and those in Christ, there is a victory.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

| Day       | Book          | Chapter | Verses |
|-----------|---------------|---------|--------|
| Sunday    | Zechariah     | 8       | 14-23  |
| Monday    | Luke          | 8       | 4-15   |
| Tuesday   | Acts          | 10      | 34-48  |
| Wednesday | Romans        | 13      | 8-14   |
| Thursday  | I Corinthians | 3       | 1-9    |
| Friday    | I Corinthians | 11      | 17-22  |
| Saturday  | I Corinthians | 11      | 23-32  |

GROWING TOGETHER

"God's garden" . . . those were St. Paul's words to describe the early Christian fellowship. From its mighty seed of revealed truth, the Church has grown and flourished . . . spreading into many lands, developing in many ways, but always linked by oneness in Christ.

World-wide Communion Sunday is a day of spiritual renewal for Christians of every creed. It is a time to remember our brothers in all lands, and to pray that our differences may be transcended by the power of the Holy Spirit working among us. It is a call to greater effort, greater personal participation, so that by our example all men may be led to know Jesus as their Saviour.

The Church needs the support of every Christian on this meaningful occasion. Decide now that you and your family will be present at the Lord's Table.

Public Eating Originated In Ancient Times; Roman Started 'Business Lunch'

The restaurant, from the smallest to the largest and swankiest, has become as familiar to the American scene as baseball and rock and roll music. Americans enjoy "eating out" more than any other people in the world. As a result, the restaurant industry now has become the nation's fourth largest.

But few persons stop to realize the centuries of traditions and art that are wrapped up in the restaurant of today. For example, the history of public eating service is probably as ancient as the Old and New Testaments, which frequently refer to inns. The very word restaurant has its origin in the Latin root word, "restaurare," which means "to restore." In the 16th century, this Latin root word was applied to a spicy broth and called a "restorative beverage." Later it was applied to other "restorative" foods, especially grays, soups, bouillons, and similar preparations.

BUSINESS LUNCH

The honor for creating the first "businessmen's lunch" apparently belongs to a chap named Segius Locates, a Roman innkeeper in 40 B.C. He devised the feature for ship brokers who were too busy to go home.

Some authorities claim that the "medieval" history of the restaurant industry began during the French revolution, in 1789, when hiding aristocrats were fed in secret by their servants. These rendezvous became known to other aristocrats who were willing to pay a small charge for well-cooked meals.

In ancient times, there were places for public eating roughly similar to our restaurants. Before the dawn of civilization, when people began making their homes in one place and occasionally traveling away from home — as distinguished from nomads who had no real homes — they needed a place to eat and sleep enroute. Thus early restaurants were usually in conjunction with sleeping accommodations.

TABARD INN

Inns, hotels and monasteries of Europe served this function up to the 17th century and today's restaurant is really an outgrowth of these. Its development as a separate institution came later.

One of the earliest restaurants was the Tabard Inn in London, where, in the 14th century, Chaucer's Canterbury pilgrims used to gather prior to their journeys to the shrine of St. Thomas a Becket, to dine and revel. They also held dinners there after they returned, at which time the best teller of stories during the pilgrimage was rewarded with a free meal and fete. This was the idea of the inn host, Harry Bailey, who

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's one thing you've heard almost absolutely nothing about in the presidential campaign so far. That's this present Congress, which has done one of the most amazing turnabouts in history.

But you can expect to hear plenty about it from the Democrats, who run Congress, and President Johnson, who needed it into an extremely impressive record, when this session ends.

In 1963 — the first half of the two-year session — this was the greatest collection of congressional dawdlers since 1940 when President Roosevelt got fed up with the Congress he had to deal with.

RECALL FOR LETTER

He blamed its wretched performance on "good-fellowship" in a letter to the then speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn, who died in 1961, and the present speaker, John McCormack, who was then the Democratic majority leader.

"What I want to get across to both of you before the next session begins is that good-fellowship alone, an easy life to avoid criticism, and acceptance of defeat before an issue has been joined, make, all of them, less for party success and for national safety than a few drag-down and knock-out fights and an unwillingness to accept defeat without a fight."

President Truman helped get himself elected in 1948 when he denounced the Republican-run Congress that year as a "do-nothing" Congress. But it was not all that bad and was far superior to the 1963 session of this Congress.

LBJ GOT ACTION

There was a gentle and gentlemanly attitude about Congress last year. And President Kennedy, whose vital programs were being ignored, was one of the gentlest in dealing with both House and Senate.

As soon as he moved into the White House Johnson began went along on the trips to judge the best tales.

In England, commoners had patronized eating places called "ordinaries" as far back as 1577. These were taverns which served only at specified meal-times — usually between one and four o'clock — at a long, common table and at a fixed price. Diners couldn't come in any time and sit any place, then choose from a vast menu.

using his skills on the tardy, lackadaisical lawmakers that he had learned in 23 years in House and Senate, seven of them as Democratic leader in the Senate.

At the time of his death two of Kennedy's most important bills — a tax cut and civil rights — were just unfinished business. He had never been able to be harsh with Congress. He called the failure to get action "unfortunate."

But in an astonishingly short time Johnson began to get action.

ACTION ON BIG ONES

Before the end of last February, Congress passed the tax measure, an $11.5-billion cut in personal and corporate income, the biggest in history.

In early July Congress, after an 83-day Senate battle, passed the most far-reaching civil rights bill in history.

Thursday the Senate passed a foreign aid authorization bill after adopting a compromise solution to its long controversy over legislative reapportionment.

The aid bill now goes to a Senate-House conference committee to iron out differences between the two houses. This shouldn't be hard.

CHANCE FOR MEDICARE

Also Thursday another House-Senate committee — to reconcile differences — agreed to a bill broadening and expanding the National Defense Education Act.

There is even a slim possibility that before this Congress finishes it will have passed some kind of program — linked to Social Security — of medical care for the aged. This seemed impossible last year and for most of this one.

Here are some of the other measures passed by this Congress:

Mass transportation aid for urban areas; pay raises for federal employes and members of Congress; poverty war program; livestock and beef import controls; expansion of the food stamp program; expansion of vocational educational programs; establishment of a wilderness preservation system; land-water conservation programs; additional funds for public works; pay raises for military personnel in 1964; wheat and cotton subsidies; federal aid for doctor, dental and nursing schools; federal aid for academic facilities for colleges.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

OCTOBER 4th-10th

HABIT

Fire Fighting Hazardous; Should Be Left To Firemen

Fire fighting is a hazardous occupation and, whenever possible, the job should be left to firemen, the National Board of Fire Underwriters said today.

Firemen are properly trained and equipped to fight fires, and at the first sign or indication of fire, always call the fire department, the board added.

There are, however, certain steps that any household can take to be prepared in case of fire.

First and foremost, everyone derwriters' Laboratories, Inc. be purchased.

A hose is a good extinguisher, and many families keep one hooked up to the faucet the year round.

Garden hose from an outside faucet can be used on grass fires, and also to extinguish roof fires. Garden hose is also effective on fires inside buildings. Adapters can be kept readily available to permit attachment of the hose to any faucet in the home.

A quick method of extinguishing burning grease in a pot or pan is to pick up a pan cover with a long-handled fork and place the cover on the flaming pan. Another effective means of putting out grease fires such as occur in broilers is to throw a handful of baking soda or salt on the blaze.

URGES EFFORT TO HOLD DOWN FIRE LOSSES

A renewal of fire prevention efforts throughout the nation with the view of holding down loss of life and destruction of property by fire was urged today by Lewis A. Vincent, general manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

It is reported that there were 11,800 fire fatalities last year and over 70,000 people sustained fire injuries, Mr. Vincent added.

At the same time, fire losses in 1963 rose to a new high of $1,405,558,000, an increase of 11.1 per cent over the preceding year, Mr. Vincent said.

"The rising trend is a challenge which we must face realistically," he added.

"Fire prevention efforts over the years have been paying rich dividends. The growth rate of the country's national wealth subject to destruction from fire has been one and one-half times the rate of increase in fire losses since the end of World War II.

"Still the tragic toll in loss of lives and property from fire is appalling.

"There is room for betterment in all fire prevention efforts. Three out of every four fires are the result of carelessness — these should never have occurred.

"What are the principal causes of fires? Well, nearly one-fourth of them are caused by matches and smoking, another fifth are of electrical origin, and one-tenth began in a defective heating plant.

"Care with matches and smoking can help hold down fire losses. Keeping electrical equipment in good working order can also aid, and at least once a year, every home should have its heating plant checked by a qualified serviceman."

On the plus side in the fight against fire is the ever-increasing awareness of the value of fire prevention, Mr. Vincent said.

More and more communities are adopting fire prevention codes and improving their defenses.

Thousands of communities are conducting Spring Clean-Up campaigns, urging householders to clean their attics and basements of unneeded combustibles, and holiday safety campaigns contribute importantly to fire safety with regard to the Christmas season, he said.

Many communities conduct voluntary home inspection programs in which local firemen are invited by householders to check their premises for possible fire hazards.

Mr. Vincent added that more and more architects, engineers, and construction men are building fire safety into new structures — industrial plants and mercantile establishments as well as homes.

One-Man Revolt Flares On Channel Island Of Sark Over Electric Pole

SARK, Channel Islands (AP) — A one-man revolt raged today on the Channel island of Sark.

The rebel is Malcolm Robson, owner of the electricity plant that supplies the 600 residents of the little British island off the French coast. With a flick of a switch he plunged them all into darkness Wednesday night.

The blackout lasted 30 minutes. Islanders rushed to Sark's three stores and bought the entire supply of candles.

"That's just a taste of things to come," Robson warned. "If things don't get better I'll cut off the supply entirely."

"LA DAME" INVOLVED

Robson is warring with the Chief Pleas, the advisory council to the island's hereditary ruler, Mary Hathaway, who has the title "La Dame."

Robson got angry when the Chief Pleas ordered him to take down a tall electricity pole which the council said was on someone else's land.

He told the council: "I'm getting fed up with interference. And unless you order that no further action will be taken against me I shall shut down the plant."

CRY "BLACKMAIL"

That brought cries of "blackmail." But at 6 p.m., just as darkness was falling, Robson threw the switch, blacking out the island and cutting its communications with the outside world.

Harry Bell, chairman of a Pleas committee on electricity, said: "We are trying to decide whether the islanders should have some kind of control of the electricity supply — but not a nationalization scheme."

"The pole that caused the trouble is on somebody else's land and Mr. Robson has been told to take it down. I can't see that his blackout will help his case."

Slice hard-cooked eggs crosswise so you have thin cuts; place each on a round of melba toast. And a dot of mayonnaise and a caper-rolled anchovy. Serve this delicious canape with tomato juice or some other before-dinner drink.

FIRES EXCEED $1 BILLION IN PROPERTY LOSS

The year 1963 was the seventh consecutive one in which fire losses exceeded $1 billion, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

The growth of this country, the board says, has of itself contributed to the high level of fire losses.

Since its inception in 1866, the national board has been at the forefront in fire protection activities.

We are glad to report that some real progress has been made in the fight against fire.

BURNABLE UNITS

For example, since 1950 there has been an increase of 34,500,000 in the population of this country, 13,750,000 new housing units have been added, and thousands of new mercantile and manufacturing units have been built. The new structures have increased the number of burnable buildings.

However, the burning ratio — the ratio of dollar fire loss to national wealth — has been declining steadily over the years, indicating progress in the never ending fight to prevent fire waste.

As the nation observes Fire Prevention Week this month — which comes October 4-10 — it's a good time for everyone to use care with fire and try to help us stem this needless destruction of our resources.

Fire takes its toll in lives. Last year there were 11,800 fire fatalities and tens of thousands more were injured in fires.

ERASE HAZARDS

We can cut down the national toll in lives and property by keeping our homes free of hazards, throwing out accumulations of old newspapers and combustible trash, keeping our electrical equipment in good repair, and using particular care with matches and smoking which are the cause of one-fourth of all fires.

And the national board reminds us that three-fourths of all fires are the result of carelessness, and never should have occurred.

Are fire prevention efforts worthwhile? Yes, says the national board. Without fire prevention efforts on the part of all of us, the board estimates, the annual fire loss in the United States would probably be three times its present size.

In the basement of the home of the leader, Mrs. Charles S. Taylor, Wednesday evening, the meeting was opened with Linda Ickes leading the salute to the flag, the Girl Scout Promise and the Laws.

Debbie Deardorff was elected troop treasurer.

The troop will enter a float in the Halloween Parade. Those riding on the float will be Bonnie Schultz, Debbie Deardorff, Bonnie Flenner, Sherry Rosenwald, alternate, Debbie Straup. Banner bearers will be Vickie Haines and Linda Myers.

The Cadette and Junior Troops will combine their efforts in assisting in the cafeteria Saturday afternoon and evening from 4 to 7:30 on two shifts. Those wishing to help decorate tables are asked to report to the cafeteria at 3 o'clock.

Cadette Troop members, committee members and leaders will begin a six-week Red Cross Training Course Wednesday evening from 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock. The course will be given under the direction of Bruce Robbins, Gettysburg.

Man Jailed For Threatening LBJ

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Joseph S. Schultz, 57, Dover, N.J., was held today in default of $1,000 bail on a charge of making an oral threat to kill the President.

Secret Service agents acted after Schultz allegedly "knowingly and willfully" made the oral threat to take the life of the President at a local tavern Tuesday, based on statements submitted to Secret Service.

Arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Harry Kolb, Schultz was held in jail and sent to Lackawanna County Jail.

Schultz said he was visiting here.

PRAISES COURT RULE ON STATE REDISTRICTING

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton says the State Supreme Court decision outlawing the 1964 legislative reapportionment act was "a sensible and most welcome adjudication."

In a statement released Wednesday, Scranton indicated he felt the decision was the only one that could have been reached in view of the U.S. Supreme Court's recent "one-man, one-vote" opinion.

The state court on Tuesday ruled that legislative districts must be apportioned on the basis of population with no restrictions on the number a county should or should not have.

Candidates for the General Assembly were allowed by the court to run for office in November on the basis of the 1964 Reapportionment Act. But the districts must be redrawn in time for the 1966 elections.

Scranton said that although apportionment was primarily the responsibility of the legislature, it was incumbent on him to assert leadership in effecting a new apportionment act in accordance with the decision.

"This I shall do," the governor promised.

Chill a bottle of sauterne and pour some of the wine over cantaloupe balls just before serving. Serve the rest of the wine with the dessert.

MAKE RULING ON EQUAL TIME

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission ruled today that broadcasters who carry President Johnson's news conferences during the election campaign are subject to claims for equal time by other candidates.

The majority in the 4-3 decision ruled that broadcasts of an entire news conference "would not constitute either a bona fide news interview or on-the-spot coverage of a bona fide news event." Those two categories are exempted by the equal time law.

In one dissent Commissioner Frederick W. Ford promised again to urge repeal of the equal time law. In another, Commissioner Lee Loevinger said the commission was being "intellectually impotent" in reaching the decision.

The ruling, however, may be academic. Only four Johnson news conferences have been broadcast since he took office last November—and none since the Democratic party nominated him in August.

However, the decision may set a precedent for future presidential election years.

One Coed Among 2,500 AF ROTC Purdue Cadets

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Sharon Rae Wilson, a red-haired freshman, is the only female in Purdue University's 2,500-member Air Force ROTC.

The pert and poised coed from Madison, Ind., says, "The ratio isn't much different than it is in most of my engineering classes."

Sharon is outnumbered in the freshman section of the ROTC 1,425 to 1. It was a reluctant Air Force that accepted her enrollment in Capt. Rex Bull's basic class.

MATH ENTHUSIAST

She is a mathematics enthusiast and is considering going into aeronautical engineering. She thought the ROTC class would benefit her more than would women's physical education.

Capt. Bull said the military class "isn't geared for female participation, but it's working out all right. She's taking just the classroom work. We won't let her drill, of course."

Bull said Miss Wilson won't be permitted to take advanced ROTC after her sophomore year. All male students at Purdue are required to undergo military training their first two years.

"So far I think she'll be a real fine student. She's very personal, very levelheaded," Bull said.

"And I believe some of the things she'll learn in the ROTC classroom will be beneficial to her in her chosen field of engineering."

Bull said that in the past, at Purdue and other schools, there had been coeds in experimental ROTC programs not similar to Miss Wilson's work.

NOT TOO DISTRACTING

"But the programs never worked out," he said.

In her twice-weekly classes there are 119 boys — and Sharon.

Does that make for any sort of classroom distraction for the cadets?

"So far they've not caused too much of a ruckus," the captain said.

BALTIMORE (AP) — President Johnson, who visited Brown University at Providence, R.I., Monday and the Johns Hopkins University here today, told a campus crowd: "I regard it as wise for the flame of learning to be applied occasionally to the seats of power."

WHAT MACARTHUR REMEMBERED
Great Captain's Long Awaited Memoirs
Reviews Crises Without Personal Rancor

By JIM DAN HILL

Maj. Gen., Army (Ret.)
There are at least two ways to write an autobiography. Those who have sought to be intensely accurate have tediously combed old official reports, maps, contemporary memoranda, as well as numerous published writings of colleagues and opponents. The result is often mere history; little or no personality.

Another technique is for the writer to arrange chronologically a few old clippings, occasional critiques, citations, letters, and an atlas. Then, with nothing more than a tablet of writing paper, a pen and his memories, he sits down to write the things he thinks are worth recording. This is the manner in which General of the Army Douglas MacArthur wrote his "Reminiscences" (McGraw-Hill, $6.50) which was released to the book trade this week.

The hazards of this technique are obvious. Exact names are occasionally forgotten. Some that are half remembered are misspelled. A general may even forget one or more divisions that were in an order of battle.

Among other nods, General MacArthur consistently refers to the American Division as the "American Division." National Guard veterans of this famous division that had a name instead of a number, will give him no thanks for missing the peculiar spelling of that honored name. They should forgive him. Is it not of record that even the great Hemer nodded?

These minor errors detract little from the great sweep of the majestic narrative which the long, eventful life of Douglas MacArthur encompassed. Moreover, there is strength to the writing technique that he has used. The reader becomes acquainted with "the man."

MacArthur was a brave man, with vast ranges of intellectual as well as physical courage. At the same time, he was as sensitive as he was proud. To say that he did not feel the slings and darts that came his way would be untrue; but they never diverted him from duty or an objective.

Notwithstanding this sensitivity, he neither hangs crepe on a fellow officer nor passes the buck to a subordinate. Some reviewers may criticize him for glossing over the patent fact that, hours after Pearl Harbor, the Japanese Air Force caught his planes on the ground with disastrous results.

Actually, MacArthur could justly pass that buck to Lieut. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, then the Army Air Force C.G. in Manila. Moreover, at war's end, Brereton contributed slings and darts toward MacArthur. Nevertheless, MacArthur neither blames Brereton nor offers an unkind word.

For the nerve wracking, near destruction of his loaded transports and support craft at Leyte by Admiral Kurita's Central Force passage through the unguarded San Bernardino Strait, there is no criticism of Admiral Halsey for being drawn out of position by Admiral Ozawa's planeless (therefore harmless) flat-tops to northward. MacArthur merely denounces Washington, D.C. for a split command set-up that had invited such eminent disaster. This is another way of saying Chiefs-of-Staff Admiral Ernest King and General George C. Marshall, but no names are called.

Elsewhere MacArthur's unspoken disdain for war-time palace soldiers and swivel chair sailors similarly peeps from between the lines. Silly or impossible directives are cited, but he never assigns individual blame. One feels the grievance is primarily against an over-centralization of uninformed, distant decisions, with many of them conspicuously political rather than intended to win either a peace or to gain a victory.

Those who expect vituperation from MacArthur against Mr. Truman will be disappointed. He enthusiastically quotes two other well-known critiques of the ex-President, with his added personal opinion that as a war President, Mr. Truman was not another Abraham Lincoln. At this point, MacArthur may be suspected of emphasis by purposeful understatement.

A century or two from now Douglas MacArthur and Dwight D. Eisenhower will be as bright in the pages of history as are Britain's Duke of Wellington, and America's U. S. Grant, Robert E. Lee, and John J. Pershing. The palace professionals of the armed services through World Wars I and II likewise will be as forgotten as their counterparts, Field Marshal, The Duke of York; the Union's General Henry Halleck; the Confederacy's General Samuel Cooper; and President Wilson's Peyton C. March, each of whom outranked and wrote unrealistic directives to the Great Captain of his day.

Nowhere will the fame of MacArthur be brighter than in Manila or Tokyo. With the exception of George Washington, no other American general has proved himself to be as great in the immediate post-war peace as he was in the war.

These "Reminiscences" are filled with humor, pathos, drama, grandeur and intense pride tempered by unexpected flashes of deep compassion and humility. Though apparently unpolished, unrevised, certainly unchecked for precision in some minor details, this remains a great book — the self-revealing story of a great man.

GUIDELINES LAID DOWN FOR REDISTRICTING IN THIS STATE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HARRISBURG (AP) — When the General Assembly convenes here to reapportion itself in conformity with the principle of "one man, one vote," it will have clear guidelines to follow.

Those guidelines were laid down Tuesday when the State Supreme Court found the 1934 Reapportionment Act out of tune with recent U.S. Supreme Court decision and ordered the drafting of new House and Senate districts before the 1966 elections.

The General Assembly was directed to ignore county and municipal lines, if necessary, and to dispense with rigid mathematical formulas. Population, and population only, was to be the one factor on which new districts were to be drawn up.

OLD FORMULA GONE
The court chipped away at the standing of counties and municipalities as separate and self-contained political entities and wiped out a 90-year-old formula using fractions of populations to determine district make up.

No longer will every county be entitled to one House seat regardless of its population. No longer will Philadelphia or any large county be limited to a maximum of eight senators, if their population entitles them to more. Instead, each legislator will represent an almost equal number of citizens.

POPULATION BIG FACTOR
The Senate population ratio, based on 50 districts and the 1960 census, will be 228,387 citizens for each district. The House ratio, based on a state constitutional minimum of 200 districts, will be 56,597 citizens.

The court said county and municipal lines and interests should be respected wherever possible, but equal population must be the overriding factor in drafting new districts.

The resultant shake-up seems likely to cause political and sociological problems not hitherto encountered in Pennsylvania. The balance of power probably will shift from rural to urban areas.

FOREST CO. TO MERGE
For example, the 4,485 residents of Forest County will no longer have a representative all to themselves. Forest County will have to be merged with several others to approach the population norm for a single district.

On the other hand, Clearfield County, with only one representative for its 81,534 residents, will have to be subdivided to take some of the pressure off its lone legislator.

These are the extreme examples in the House, but the Supreme Court says there are at least 37 House districts with unequal representation.

OUT OF LINE
In the Senate, the court said at least eight districts are far from equal population standards. They range from the 39th District (Westmoreland County) with 352,629 residents to the 14th district (Carbon, Monroe, Pike and Wayne counties) with 129,851 residents.

In addition to causing political and sociological problems within and between counties, there are going to be intraparty squabbles as well.

Because a long fight is anticipated, Gov. Scranton likely will not call a special session to come up with a new apportionment before the current terms of most legislators expire Nov. 30.

SEEK DELAY
The administration has one immediate problem—to get the U.S. Supreme Court to withhold action on an appeal by the Commonwealth from a federal district court decision earlier this year invalidating last year's reapportionment acts.

The state Justice Department has in the works a motion asking the U.S. court to hold off until the legislature comes up with a new plan.

An interesting point, and a very important one, of the state court's decision is that technically the 1964 reapportionment acts were not thrown out.

The court merely found that the acts were "constitutionally insufficient" in that they do not conform with the U.S. court's interpretation of the 14th Amendment to the federal constitution.

To have flatly thrown the acts out would have resulted in the disruption of the Nov. 3 election and invalidation of the April primary elections in which candidates were chosen.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

SABER CURVES. A teen lovely writes: My legs look like an athlete's. There is a sharp, muscular curve on the outsides of the calves. Very ugly! What should I do?

The Answer: This condition is referred to as a saber curve, simply because it is saber-shaped. It can be corrected by a combination of methods:

1. Take a critical look at the shoes you hack around in. Are the heels worn down on the outer edges? If so, it means that you walk in a way that bulges the outer calf muscles.

To correct this fault, you must concentrate on walking with the knee relaxed and with the weight rolling through the dead center of the foot. It's hard but worth the effort. When the action becomes second nature, the curve begins to trim down and your carriage appears far more graceful.

2. As an aid to improved carriage and quick trimming, perform this routine 10 times daily: Without shoes, stand on tiptoes with feet and knees together. Keeping them close, twist knees outward; hold twist and slowly bend knees until hips touch heels. Quickly return to starting position.

While awaiting improvement, wear the deeper shades in stockings and knee-highs. They cause the legs to appear slimmer. Also keep a close check on the heel lifts of your shoes. Have them straightened the moment there's a sign of wear. You cannot possibly reach your goal on runover heels.

PIGS RESPOND TO TINY VOICE OF LITTLE BOY

POMONA, Calif. (AP)—Adults

with lungs of leather took turns bellowing at a small herd of disdainful swine at the Los Angeles County Fair's hog-calling championship.

"Whoo, pigs!" yelled one. "Soo-ey, soo-ey!" hollered another.

Not a pig moved. Then up stood a slim, blond boy named Johnny.

"Pigs!" he cried, in a clear, young voice, "Piggy, piggy!"

Half a dozen big porkers lunged across the pig pavilion in answer to the call, oinking happily. The crowd applauded.

WINS TROPHY

That was how 4-year-old Johnny Mangrith, of Pomona, won the 1964 hog-calling trophy Wednesday.

Runner-up was the 1955 champion, Sarah E. Shaffstall of Cucamonga. She is 85.

The winner's father is an agent of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, and admits to calling hogs, now and then, as a hobby.

Among those who failed to place was a Marine from Camp Pendleton, Calif., who said he practiced hog calling at night in the barracks.

An expert explained Johnny's victory this way: "It ain't the volume that counts, but the appeal of your voice. You got to make the hogs think you have something for them."

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

RECORDS KEPT BY REV. JOHN CUTHBERTSON

The brief biographical sketch of the Rev. John Cuthbertson, pioneer minister in America of the Associate Reformed Church (Presbyterian), is continued at this time.

From the day he reached the field of his labors at Middle Octorara, the Rev. Cuthbertson had but one ideal of service — to minister to the frontier people to the best of his ability. The task he set himself was no small one and he probably went to his grave thinking that he had failed — but posterity has ordained otherwise.

On August 20th, 1751, the day after his arrival in America, he (the Rev. Cuthbertson) visited the home of Walter Buchanan — upon the side of Condonoguet Creek. He preached at this place and the following day also baptized several children. From the Buchanan he rode on to the Andrew Ralson home — near the great spring. Here again he preached to the people and then continued on his way for some 22 miles — stopping at "James Mitchell's, near Hatched's town."

Some eight days later, on August 28, 1751, the Rev. Cuthbertson visited Robert McConnell's in the "Big Cove, Blue Mountain," and then travelled 40 miles over South Mountain to Robert Ready's, "near Hartstown." He reached York on September 2 and stopped at the "Dutch Tavern." He was in Pequea on September 10. Here he bought a "brown horse five years old for 19 pounds, five shillings." After this he rode 52 miles to Philadelphia. Thus he began his ministry in America — with just about the entire frontier as his particular parish.

The genealogical and historical value of the Rev. Cuthbertson's diary is unlimited. It is contained, in the original, in four small notebooks. As stated before, John Cuthbertson was a Presbyterian minister from Scotland, and even if he did not represent the particular branch of the Presbyterian church to which many of the people living on the frontier belonged, these people, rather than have their children baptized by a minister of their own branch of the church by waiting months or perhaps years, had Cuthbertson perform the rite when he held services at or near their homes. The same is also true of many of the marriages. Pastoral services were not always available in remote areas along the mountains and in the widely separated log cabins in the valley. Therefore when the Rev. Cuthbertson passed through on one of his trips, the young people who had been waiting for a minister to marry them availed themselves of the opportunity afforded by his visit.

The Reformed Presbyterian Church of Scotland was not vitally separated from the particular branch to which many of the so-called "Scotch-Irish" belonged. As a consequence there are many records missing from the "regular" ones — particularly in the Cumberland Valley — such as baptisms, marriages, and funerals, which are to be found in the diary of the Rev. John Cuthbertson. It fills a great gap in the history of the frontier church.

After some 40 years of hard unremitting work the Rev. John Cuthbertson came to the end of his earthly journey. The torch passed to other hands. As so often happens in history the times required a certain type of man — this John Cuthbertson came to fill, most adequately, his own particular niche in the history of the then frontier.

The grave of this worthy minister is to be found in the Middle Octorara (Presbyterian) churchyard — the place which saw the start of his ministry. The inscription from the marker at his grave reads as follows:

1. "In memory of — Rev. John Cuthbertson — Who, after a labor of above 40 years in the Ministry of the Gospel — among the dissenting Covenanters — of America, departed this life — March 10th, 1791 — In the 74th year of his age. — The righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance."

In studying the diaries of the Rev. John Cuthbertson certain names and localities stand out as belonging to what is now Adams (then York) County, Pennsylvania. These were recorded by him as follows:

1. "December 28, 1762 — Bear's Tavern — Married Hew Stewart and Agnes Moor."

2. June 26, 1769 — Married Sam Taylor and Sarah Stewart."

3. "Carroll's Tract — May 9th, 1754 — baptized Charles son to John Broomfield."

4. "April 15th, 1753 — baptized David son to Robert Stevenson."

5. "January 15, 1760 — Married Francis Meredith and Sister Burns."

6. "April 6, 1763 — baptized Robert, son to Robert Stevenson."

7. "April 19, 1772 — baptized Jeremiah, son to John Murray, and Agnes, daughter to Mat. Beggs."

8. "April 20th, 1772 — Married Nathaniel Mitchell to Jat. Burns."

9. Under a special heading, entitled "Marsh Creek Society" (Rock Creek) — the following are to be found:

1. "September 1, 1751 — baptized Jean, daughter to Thomas Anderson; Isobel, daughter to Robert McCulloch; Rose Anne, daughter to Jos. Hutchinson; James, son to Jo. Broomfield; Mary, daughter to David Dunwoody."

2. "April 9, 1752 — baptized William, son to Jo. Little."

3. "April 12, 1752 — baptized a daughter (name not given) to Thomas Anderson."

4. "April 12, 1752 — baptized Jean, daughter to Mary Mair."

5. "July 26, 1752 — baptized

11 Women Jurors Force Conviction

OAKHURST, Calif. (AP) — The defense attorney was polling the jury Thursday in Grub Gulch District Court after return of a guilty verdict in a drunk driving case.

He asked the only man on the jury, Benjamin Lemon, how he voted. Replied Lemon: "Not guilty." The court was in an uproar.

"They made me do it," cried Lemon, pointing to the 11 women jurors.

The stunned prosecution beat a hasty retreat and reduced the charge to reckless driving.

STATE TO ASK TIME TO PASS NEW LAW HERE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state Justice Department planned to ask the U.S. Supreme Court today to delay action on a Pennsylvania reapportionment case and give the legislature an opportunity to pass a new districting law.

Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandrini said Thursday the request would take the form of a supplement to a pending commonwealth appeal from a U. S. District Court decision. The lower court last April held that the Pennsylvania constitutional provision on reapportionment was in violation of the 14th amendment to the federal constitution.

Alessandrini said he would present to the U.S. court a copy of the decision handed down by the state Supreme Court on Tuesday. That decision said that Pennsylvania's reapportionment act, signed by Gov. Scranton last January, was not in line with the "one man, one vote" principle laid down by the U. S. Supreme Court in June.

The primary responsibility for the fashioning of a representative framework belongs to the General Assembly, which by virtue of its composition, experience, and facilities is the most competent and appropriate body to perform this task," Alessandrini said, adding:

"As the Pennsylvania Supreme Court recommends, the legislature ought to be given an opportunity to enact reapportionment legislation consonant with the requirements of the fourteenth amendment, and consistent with the opinions of the United States and the Pennsylvania Supreme Courts."

Sam., son to Thomas Wilson; Esther, daughter to Jeremiah Murray; Thomas and Ezekiel, sons to James Blakely; William, son to John Kenedy; William, son to John Spadie; Eleanor, daughter to M. (?)."

7. "August 27, 1753 — baptized Elizabeth, daughter to John Hutchison."

It will be noticed that, taking the entries as they are recorded in the diary, the sequence is not always in chronological order. Paper was valuable in those days.

NIXON DEFENDS FIELD CONTROL OF ATOM ARMS

NEW CASTLE, N.H. (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says Sen. Barry Goldwater's proposal to give NATO field commanders control of certain nuclear weapons is nothing new.

Both former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy set up programs for use by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in an emergency, Nixon said Thursday night at a Republican fund-raising dinner. And so has President Johnson, he said.

GOP presidential nominee Goldwater's sharpest criticism has come from those who say the Arizona senator is "trigger happy" because of his nuclear-NATO proposal, Nixon said.

"Much has been made about Goldwater's statement that he would give control of nuclear weapons to NATO commanders," Nixon told some 200 Republicans at a $1,000-a-plate Citizens for Goldwater dinner.

"No one brings up the point that President Eisenhower set up a program for use by NATO in an emergency," he said. "So did John F. Kennedy. So did Lyndon B. Johnson."

DEVELOP LEADERSHIP

"This is a false issue. The real issue is how do we develop leadership to avoid a time when the NATO commanders will be faced with a decision — when they will have to make a choice?"

The former vice president did not say specifically whether Eisenhower, Kennedy or Johnson stipulated in their programs that a decision to use nuclear weapons by NATO still would have to have presidential approval in any emergency.

Nixon headed for Iowa today after a one-day tour of New England. He spoke in Boston and Burlington, Vt., in addition to New Castle. It was the first day of a 33-day, 36-state speaking tour.

HARRISBURG AT PROVIDENCE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Atlantic Coast Football League leaders—Boston Sweepers in the north and Pittsburgh Valley Ironmen in the south—will have to be at their best this weekend to retain their positions.

The Ironmen appear to have the tougher task. They travel to Newark for a Saturday night pique game, while the Sweepers, who suffered their first defeat and were dropped from the lead last week.

Pittsburgh Valley slipped into first place with a 6-1 record while the Jersey Giants were cutting down Newark, leaving both teams with 5-1 marks.

Meantime, Boston (6-1) must find a way to hold down the high-scoring Portland Sea Hawks (4-3-1), who have rolled up 256 points, 81 more than their nearest pursuer. That game, also Saturday night, is at Portland.

All league games are scheduled for Saturday. In the afternoon, Hazleton is at Richmond, while other night contests find Harrisburg at Providence, Hartford at Westchester, Mohawk Valley at Springfield and Jersey City at Atlanta. Providence is the northern Division runnerup with a 5-2-1 mark.

State Returns Liquid Fuel Tax

HARRISBURG (AP)—Nearly $10 million in liquid fuel taxes is being turned over to the state's 2,561 municipalities this week for the improvement of local streets and roads.

Henry D. Harral, secretary of highways, said Thursday the payment of $9,864,422 brings to $38,038,876 the amount paid to municipalities during the year.

Municipalities must use 25 percent of the funds for highway construction. The remainder may be allocated for maintenance, labor and purchase of materials.

CAN CLINCH TITLE TONIGHT

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees can clinch their fifth straight American League pennant tonight.

A Yankee victory over Cleveland and a loss by the Chicago White Sox in its doubleheader with Kansas City would end the race.

Thursday, the Yankees lost a doubleheader to Detroit 4-2 and 5-2.

The White Sox were idle, but both they and the Baltimore Orioles moved to within 2½ games of New York. The Orioles defeated Washington 2-0.

The Cincinnati Reds trimmed Pittsburgh 5-4 and climbed to within one-half game of the St. Louis Cardinals. National League leaders. The Cards were idle.

The Reds play Philadelphia tonight while the Cardinals play the first of three games with the last-place New York Mets. The Reds and the once-potent Phillies have an off day Saturday, then conclude the season Sunday.

The National race can't end before Saturday. It would take a Cincinnati loss tonight and two Cardinal victories to finish it by then.

Will Push Treaty To Control Arms

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Prime Minister Douglas Home said today that the United States and Britain have prepared a draft treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons and he hopes they can push it soon after the American election.

The draft is "ready and could be produced at any moment if wanted," the Conservative party leader told a news conference as he brought his campaign to Britain's Midlands. The British general election is Oct. 15.

READING SAYS LOSSES HEAVY FOR 28 YEARS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The comptroller of the Reading Railroad told a state Public Utility Commission hearing Thursday that Reading passenger service has been operating at a loss since 1936.

The railroad has filed applications to discontinue passenger service between Norristown and Reading and between Lansdale and Bethlehem. It also seeks to drop a one-way daily train from Lansdale to Philadelphia.

Other hearings will be held next Tuesday at Reading, Wednesday at Pottsville, Thursday in Doylestown and Friday in Bethlehem.

HEAVY LOSSES

Byron C. Cassel, Reading comptroller, said by Aug. 31 of this year the railroad's cash balance had dipped to $5.1 million, less than the Reading's monthly expenditure.

Several persons from towns along the Pottsville line told the PUC they work in Philadelphia and it would be a hardship on them if the Reading were to discontinue passenger operations on that route. Most of them said they probably would have to give up their jobs here.

In a statement prepared for the hearing, the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce supported the Reading's application for cutting service.

A Chamber of Commerce spokesman said the Reading faces bankruptcy if not permitted to discontinue the passenger lines.

SMALL INCONVENIENCE

George E. Pratt, executive director of the Chamber's Traffic and Transportation Council, said the cutback would inconvenience eight per cent of the Reading passengers but would enable the railroad to better cope with its financial problems in serving the remaining 92 per cent.

John F. Kerslake, financial vice president and director of the railroad, testified that the railroad must cut revenue-losing passenger service to make money on freight.

H. Merle Mulloy, Reading vice president and general counsel, said the railroad wants to drop passenger service beyond Norristown and Lansdale because this service loses $900,000 a year to carry only eight per cent of the suburban area riders. He said the road is losing $3.3 million a year on all commuter operations.

Appearing in opposition to

JOBLESS CLAIMS TAKE NEW DROP

HARRISBURG (AP) — The volume of continued claims for unemployment compensation filed in the commonwealth last week was the lowest for any week since July 1953.

Claimants exhausting their benefit claims were responsible for the drop, according to a report released Thursday by Secretary of Labor and Industry William P. Young.

The report indicated that 81,352 continued claims during the week represent a decrease of 940 from the previous week and a decrease of 43,729 from the same week a year ago.

Initial claims totaled 15,901, or 29 more than in the previous week.

During the week 72,681 UC checks amounting to $1,899,427 were issued to regular claimants.

Mother And Son Commit Suicide

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A sedan roared down Santa Monica pier, suddenly swerved, then burst through the railing and hurtled into the sea.

In two seconds it sank — carrying an investments expert to his death.

Ten hours later, eight miles away, in Beverly Hills, the man's elderly mother collapsed and died before a doctor could be summoned. An empty pill bottle was found nearby.

Police today listed deaths of both Philip Zetzer, 47, and Bertha Zetzer, 75, as probable suicides.

Detectives said Mrs. Zetzer apparently killed herself in grief over the death of her only son. They could find no motive for Zetzer's action.

The undersigned, having sold her home at 369 York Street, Gettysburg, Pa., will offer for sale on said premises the following:

All-Conference performer, Appler spends most of his time in the opponent's backfield and has been called "the best lineman in North Carolina." Koonz, who plays linebacker on defense, is a 6-1, 190-pound end who did his playing for Coach William Heyser at Littlestown. ### BOSTON FIRES JOHNNY PESKY; HIRE HERMAN

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox fired Johnny Pesky as manager today and named third-base coach Billy Herman as his successor.

The news came in a statement from Mike Higgins, vice president and general manager, whom Pesky had followed as field pilot two years ago.

Higgins said Herman had been signed to a two-year contract. Salary terms were not disclosed.

Pesky had been hired on a season-to-season basis.

Herman, one of the great second basemen in the National League with the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, 1931-46, had his only other big league managerial opportunity in 1947.

COACH SINCE '60

He was acquired by Pittsburgh in a multi-player swap with the Boston Braves that year. Under his partial season direction the Pirates wound up in a seventh place tie.

Herman, a Red Sox coach since 1960, takes over a team which has finished deep in the second division for six straight years and is now in eighth place — lowest under the three decades of Thomas A. Yawkey's ownership.

Herman, 53, holds several major league and national circuit records as a second baseman although he also had brief stints at third and first as a player. His lifetime batting average was .304 highlighted by a .341 at Chicago in 1935.

He played in four World Series and batted .433 in 10 all-star games.

Neurosurgeon Works On Treatment For Paraplegics

By PHIL KEIF
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — A neurosurgeon at the University of Utah College of Medicine is working on a new "re-wiring" technique that may offer hope to the paraplegic.

Dr. Theodore S. Roberts is cautious when he talks about the results.

Considerably more work must be done to develop and prove the technique, he said in an interview, "but I think we have to keep working away at improving our treatment of persons paralyzed by spinal cord damage."

WORKS WITH CATS

The acting chairman of the college's division of neurosurgery works mostly with cats where the spinal cord is damaged and the nerve connections are cut off between the brain and the lower part of the body.

That can happen to a person in a car or industrial accident. He is paralyzed from the shoulder down — no movement or feeling in his legs.

Dr. Roberts, a University of Wisconsin graduate, takes the nerves running along the ribs—the intercostal nerves—that are above the damaged spot and ties them up with the intercostals below the damaged spot.

TIES NERVES

These intercostal nerves branching off from the cord thus are given the role of replacing, in part, the function of the nerve fibers which run down the cord—the ones which have been cut off.

Dr. Roberts tried this on a human patient who had been paralyzed by an accident seven years before and said the patient told him he is now able to feel more sensation in his legs and move them better.

Dr. Roberts said the "necessarily cautious conclusion" is that this re-wiring technique has been at least partially successful.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The sound of off-key violin playing is pretty terrible even when the instrument is played by Isaac Stern.

The four notes came when Stern, here for a concert to tonight, met Lee Wilkins, 7, Anchorage violin student. Lee and Stern bowed their way through the scales. Stern asked for an encore and accompanied the boy — a half note off key.

Stern said the concert fulfills a lifetime desire — "to play my fiddle in all the states."

The New York Giants took only one of their five re-season exhibition games this summer.

BONN, Germany (AP) — Dutch and West German leaders remain at odds on a plan for European political unity but agree that efforts toward this goal should continue at full strength.

Dutch Prime Minister Victor Marijen and Foreign Minister Joseph Luns completed two days of talks Thursday with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

Informal sources said the Dutch officials refused to commit themselves on a West German plan calling for regular meetings of the government heads of the six Common Market nations.

RR MUSEUM SITE HELD UP

HARRISBURG (AP) — A question of rolling stock availability is holding up the choice of a site for the proposed Commonwealth Railroad Museum. The Historical and Museum Commission, meeting here Thursday, considered proposed sites in Altoona, Mount Union and Strasburg, said Dr. S.K. Stevens, executive director.

But a final decision was deferred because negotiations with the Pennsylvania Railroad over the acquisition of "antique" rolling stock have hit a snag, Stevens said.

The PRR, he said, had earlier offered some 30 to 40 pieces of period stock to serve as the nucleus of the proposed museum.

Recently, however, Stevens said, the railroad informed the commission that the National Transportation Museum in St. Louis has negotiated for "around half" of the rolling stock currently maintained at the road's Northumberland yards.

WOULD BAN TAX RELIEF FOR CHURCHES

By KATHIE DIBELL
BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Leonard Kerpelman, an attorney, says he wants to save American taxpayers millions of dollars.

He is trying to outlaw state and federal tax exemptions for church properties and church-owned businesses.

Kerpelman, 39, says he believes the suits eventually will reach the Supreme Court and become a milestone in church-state relationships in the United States.

CLAIMED UNCONSTITUTIONAL

He estimates that in Baltimore alone, taxation of church buildings would add $76 million to annual tax income. His clients in the suits are the Free Thought Society and the group's president, Lemoin Cree. The society pays Kerpelman a $10,000 retainer fee.

Many states, including Maryland, allow property tax exemptions for church buildings. Kerpelman already has presented opening arguments in Baltimore Superior Court against the Maryland exemptions, contending they violate the constitutional provisions against establishment of a religion.

He says all taxpayers are forced to contribute involuntarily to the support of churches because the churches use public money for such services as streets and police and fire protection.

ANOTHER TACK

In another suit, Kerpelman is attacking federal income tax regulations which allow churches tax exemptions on profits from businesses they own, including hotels, service stations and publishing houses.

Some churches voluntarily pay the taxes, but Kerpelman says exemptions run into millions of dollars.

These exemptions also are unconstitutional because they violate the constitutional provision of the separation of church and state, he maintains.

NOT IN BIBLE

Since he filed the church property suit, Kerpelman says, "Many of my Jewish friends are giving me the cold stare. They're getting an edifice complex."

"However, there's no place in the Bible that says churches have to spend this much money looking good," he said.

"Only money is involved. It's not a question of freedom of conscience."

Kerpelman says he is an Orthodox Jew, although he and his family attend synagogue irregularly.

He explains his Orthodoxy ironically:

"I'm the only one who's Orthodox. Every man is his own theologian."

Tow Disabled Film Ship To Harbor

MAZATLAN, Mexico (AP) — A movie company's disabled ship with 35 persons aboard was towed safely into the harbor of tsPihachi Coast resort Thursday night after being stranded at sea in a tropical storm.

Actress Maria Schell and actor Stanley Baker arrived earlier in a 14-foot fishing boat which rescued them from the 225-foot Hirundo. The Hirundo lost its rudder when the storm struck and anchored seven miles off the coast.

Miss Schell and Baker were among 110 persons who went to sea aboard the Hirundo Wednesday to film scenes for the movie "Who Has Seen the Wind?" Fishing boats took off all but 35 of the group.

The first printed book was made in China in 848.

Congress Brushes Aside Bills To Aid Poor, Sick For Early Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two key administration measures — aid to the aged ill and to the Appalachia poor — may be brushed aside as Congress sprints toward adjournment.

The reapportionment rider already has been yanked from the foreign aid bill.

As if flipping the calendar page to October made them suddenly aware of how fast election day is approaching, members of Congress are exhibiting a sudden zest to get their work done and get out on the campaign trail.

EAGER TO CAMPAIGN

But when they will close up shop — and whether they will be called back to Washington after Nov. 3 — is a mystery at this point.

Before the House today is $4.25 billion worth of appropriations, and once this fiscal cork is blown it will be hard to hold the members — all of whom must stand re-election if they want to stay in Congress — in Washington.

To complete the fiscal work of the long 1964 session, the House is being asked to vote on a $1-billion supplemental money bill for the added requirements of several government agencies and on the Senate version of a $3.25-billion foreign aid appropriation.

DELAYED PROGRESS

The authorization which sets the ceiling for this spending cleared a conference of House and Senate members Thursday night stripped of all reference to Supreme Court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures. It was a long fight over this aid bill rider which tied up the Senate for weeks and helped prolong the session.

If the full House and Senate give their approval to what the conferees did, the small band of liberals who fought to uphold the Supreme Court's "one man-one vote" decision will have won an even larger victory than they expected.

DIRKSEN'S PROPOSAL

For all that had remained of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's proposal to delay for at least a year action on the Supreme Court's decision that both houses of state legislatures be apportioned purely on population was a mild "sense of Congress" declaration which would not have been binding.

It was designed to allow district courts, in their discretion, to (1) permit state legislatures up to six months to reapportion and (2) permit the next elections for state legislatures to be conducted on the basis of state laws in effect Sept. 20.

Now even this watered-down proposal appears dead.

BILL IN STALEMATE

Whatever faint hopes administration forces had that the plan to enact health care for the aged would be approved by this Congress were all but extinguished Thursday when a conference committee that has been trying to work out a compromise bill broke up in stalemate.

The chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., scheduled another session today. But Mills and other House conferees are adamantly opposed to the program.

The proposal for hospitalization benefits for persons retired under Social Security was added by the Senate to a House-passed bill increasing the basic Social Security retirement.

SEEK COMPROMISE

It appeared likely the committee will be asked to drop the health plan for this year and work out a compromise between the House scale of retirement benefits and the higher one voted by the Senate. These could go into effect before the end of the year.

The second major Johnson proposal still pending — the $1.06-billion Senate-passed bill to rehabilitate the Appalachia area — is a victim of absenteeism.

Administration forces are reluctant to put the controversial measure to a House vote without some certainty that enough of their troops are on hand to pass it.

6 Killers Escape From Mexican Jail

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Police are hunting six killers who escaped from the prison in Acapulco, near Acapulco, after a riot in which a police major was killed and a policeman and two prisoners were wounded.

The riot began Thursday when several convicts attacked and disarmed guards. Police reinforcements quelled the rioting after an exchange of shots.

The prisoners who escaped were serving terms for homicide.
